Marketing Plans

Pollen Marketing offers comprehensive research, marketing audits, and strategy workshops, including 12-month media recommendations for business owners seeking to implement and benefit from a customised marketing plan.

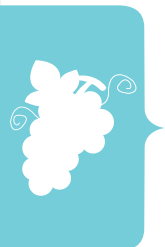

Campaigns

Pollen Marketing specialises in end-to-end campaign management from conception to reporting. Lead generation may feature a tailored combination of direct marketing, list building, social media, design, events, telemarketing, and database management, or all of the above!

Database

We can work with you to define a long-term database strategy, audit your current processes, or host lead management workshops. Monitoring and enhancing all marketing programs must be a high priority to achieve the results you are looking for.

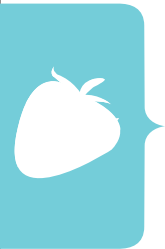

Digital

Pollen Marketing has accomplished a large number of web development projects that have achieved outstanding results. We also work alongside you in order to ensure that your website reaches your business objectives.

Design

Pollen Marketing can design a suite of rich marketing material, including sales collateral, promotional ware, and online options. We can also advise you on the proactive use of these materials for your overall strategy.

Communications

Pollen Marketing develops fruitful communication strategies encompassing web sites, articles, brochures, sales promotions, newsletters, or any piece of business communication. All of which will be conscientiously tailored to your target audience.

Social Media

Pollen Marketing can develop social media strategies to reach your targeted online communities and build meaningful relationships for your brand.
